

i have a Dream

Excellent Libby
a lovely, thoughtful speech.
Well done.

I have a dream that one day this nation will be full of friends and family that will love and respect each other.

I have a dream that one day families will be created so that we feel like we are never alone.

I have a dream that every body will live in a caring home with their friends.

This is my hope and faith.
With this faith we will be able to build a team, which will grow into a village.

which will create more families to share time with.

This will be the day when war stops and friendship starts.
A day that no one will forget,
The day we come together.

never feel alone

you always have someone
