

"I have a dream too!"

I have a dream that one day this nation will let people with no home or care etc in to their houses. I have a dream that one day people from the inside will let people from the outside in so they can live a quality life like everyone else, I have a dream that there will be no homeless people, living on old bin left overs and rain water, they will eat good from the markets and drink fresh water from the tap. This is my hope and faith. With this faith we will be able to let people be kind, let other people live their life off the streets and inside a home. This will be the day when no one is lonely and everyone will have a family. When every one has a regular life. By Lily Whyman.

I wish I lived in a house with a family, it's so hard to live on the streets!

A beautiful, thoughtful and well constructed speech. Well done Lily.
